

Catherine Bohlen

Ms. Catherine Bohlen supports food security and nutrition initiatives at Chemonics International. As Livelihoods and Nutrition Advisor for the USAID/Nigeria MARKETS project, she designed and managed a pilot activity that targets rural household income growth and food security focusing on increasing income for very poor women and improving nutritional status of families through microenterprise, asset management, and nutrition skills. Ms. Bohlen has a Bachelor's in political science from Loyola College Maryland and an Master's in International Public Health Nutrition from University of Westminster, London.

Fernando Maldonado

Mr. Fernando Maldonado supports Making Cents' enterprise and livelihoods technical areas. Most recently under the USAID MARKETS project in Nigeria, Mr. Maldonado participated in the development of tailored curriculum modules, led nation-wide training courses, designed multimedia communications pieces, and supported development of impact assessment tools. Prior to Making Cents, Mr. Maldonado was working as a business advisor under the USAID MEDI Armenia project, supporting the access to markets component of an SME value chain linkages program. Fernando possesses fluent command of Spanish and has worked in North America, Latin America, Africa, Europe, and the Middle East. Mr. Maldonado holds a Bachelor's in Government and International Politics with a minor in Economics and a Master's in International Commerce and Policy from George Mason University.